A warm, bright apartment in a brick building with parking next to the house and stove heating.

Two-story building constructed under the Khrushchev-era project, with 5 apartments in total. Closed staircase, inner courtyard with separate storage sheds. Plenty of parking spaces near the building. The house is connected to central water supply, sewage, gas, and features stove heating, which makes you independent from the central heating season. The building is managed by RNP, with utility payments around €100. The building has excellent sound in...
